

Power and productivity
for a better world™

Save the date!

Automation & Power World
March 13-16, 2017– Houston, Texas
www.abb.com/apw

Take part in Automation & Power World Join us for the digital and live conferences

Learn from the experts in power and automation both online and in person. Mark your calendars now for these upcoming Automation & Power World digital and live conferences

Enjoy the benefits of attending a professional conference from wherever you are via an internet connection – for FREE. Get leading insight on hot business topics, participate in informative webinars, and chat online with speakers and ABB experts. Plus, earn valuable professional development hours (PDHs) for each webinar you attend.

Outperform in an uncertain market Digital conference for oil and gas November 10th, 2016

Both producers and suppliers are shifting towards a more productive and operationally efficient mindset in today's challenging market. This virtual conference focuses on solutions for decreasing capex, while saving significant time on delivery and installation.

Sign up for the digital conference:
new.abb.com/apw/digitalconference

Will you be at the Automation & Power World live conference March 13-16, 2017, in Houston, Texas?

Talk one-on-one with industry experts, network in person with colleagues, and see all the latest ABB equipment, technologies and solutions.

From past lessons learned to the future revealed, attending ABB Automation & Power World saves you money, time and manpower. Ask questions, deliver feedback, take advantage of hands-on training and learn from industry experts how to maximize value from your current assets and strengthen your business in today's economy.

Conference registration is FREE for ABB customers and industry professionals. Get the latest details for the event and sign up for event updates: new.abb.com/apw